SHIP SUBSIDY PASSAGE IS HELD CERTAIN

Republican Leaders Declare
They Have Enough Votes
In House

GENERAL DEBATE CLOSES

Rep. Gahn, Says Passage
Would Mean Republican
Defeat 2 Years Hence

Washington, Nov. 25.—The last day of general debate was ahead for the shipping bill when the house convened today with the confidence of Republican leaders that it would pass by a safe margin next Wednesday unshaken after two days of searching discussion of the bill. Assurances to this effect were taken to the White House by Representative Mondell, the Republican leader, at the close of yesterday's debate, although he did not say how many votes it would have to spare.

Of fourteen members taking the floor for and against the bill yesterday, there were only two breaks in party alignment. Representative O'Connor, Democrat, Louisiana, spoke for the measure, while Representative Gahn of Ohio, a Republican member of the merchant marine committee which framed it, announced he would not vote for a bill which he asserted had been jammed through the committee. He said its passage would mean the "certain crushing of the Republican organization two years hence."

The senate, having agreed to a final vote Monday on the $5,000,000 Librarian loan measure was in adjournment today while the house debated the shipping bill.

Navy 14; Army 10.

Yale Bowl, New Haven, Conn., Nov. 25.—The Yale and Harvard football teams completed their schedules this season by meeting here in their annual clash. It was the forty-first game between the two institutions since 1875.

A capacity crowd of more than 76,000 spectators filled the huge Yale football amphitheater to overflowing. Weather conditions were more ideal for the players than for the spectators. A piercing wind amounting almost to a gale in velocity blew out of the northwest and swept the length of the gridiron.

After exchange of punts Hammond kicked over Yale's line and the Bulldogs renewed scrimmaging on their 20-yard line. After two plays the Blues punted to Harvard's 45-yard line. The ball struck the ground and hit a Harvard player. Owen scooped it up on the dead run and aided by good interference ran 41 yards to Yale's four-yard line, where only a brilliant tackle by Hullman stopped a score then.

Gehrke made one yard. Owen two more and then Hull replaced Lee at quarter. With a heading dive Owen went over for a touchdown on the next play. Hammond with a drop from the 15-yard line brought the score to 7 to 0 for Harvard.

Gross kicked off for Yale to Hammond who fumbled it. Hullman, Elb left and fell on the pig skin on Harvard's 34 yard line. Yale made two first downs placing the ball on the Crimson 10-yard line. A brilliant tackle by Gehrke alone prevented the Elb leader from crossing the goal. O'Hearn missed an easy field goal standing on the Crimson 15-yard line. The first period ended with the score 7 to 0 in Harvard's favor.

The second period opened with a five-yard plunge by Jordan through the Harvard center. On the next play O'Hearn dropped back as if to punt but tossed a short forward pass to Neidlinger who raced to the Crimson 35-yard line before he was downed.

Yale made first down on Harvard's 20-yard line chiefly through a short pass from O'Hearn to Jordan. Two plays gained Yale one yard. Then O'Hearn scored a field goal from Harvard's 22-yard line, making the score 7 to 3 in favor of Harvard.

Captain Buell of Harvard won the toss and elected to defend the north goal with the wind at his back.

J. J. Lee, third string quarterback, replaced Buell when the teams lined up.

Cross kicked off to Hammond on Harvard's ten yard line. The Crimson fullback ran the ball back 20 yards before he was thrown by O'Hearn.

Then followed a kicking duel. Yale netted seven yards on a forward pass from O'Hearn to Hullman. O'Hearn then tried another field goal, standing on the Crimson 45 yard line mark, but his kick resulted in a touchback and Harvard put the ball in play on their 40 yard line. From a kick formation Hammond worked a short forward pass to Owen and the second period ended on the next play.

The score at the end of the second period was: Harvard 7; Yale 3.

50,000 SEE GAME

Navy scored a touchdown point and a field goal, score Army 0; Navy 7.

100,000 TURNED DOWN
(By the Associated Press.)

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 25.—The football players of Harvard and Yale put on the armor of the gridiron today for their annual contest with the pig skin. To see the Crimson and Blue students in their annual match a concourse of alumni and fair followers came from the ends of the country, almost of the world. They formed an audience far more numerous than those which thronged the tilting yards of other days and quite as colorful.

Outstanding among the 76,000 odd who were sure of seats, was the war time premier of France, Georges Clemenceau. The prospect of seeing in action at the sport that is new to him, the teams of the two American colleges most widely

GOOD ROADS PROGRAM IS DECLARED O. K.

State Highway Commission
Approves Proposed Changes
In Laws and Constitution

DISCUSSION IS HELD

Some Minor Changes to be Made in the Program

The legislative program of the North Dakota Good Roads association, with minor amendments, was approved by the members of the State Highway Commission, in meeting here with the legislative committee and President L. J. Moe of the association, it was stated by Governor Nestos and Mr. Kaulfuss.

The program, which is to go before the legislature, provides for one constitutional amendment and two laws, which provide:

1. Amendment to constitution to provide a state highway system, commission and fund, to be created by the legislature and voted upon by the people.

2. A law providing for revision of the present state highway commission law with a view of making the state laws comply with present and future requirements of the federal government for aid in road building. It provides for a highway commission of three members, appointed from different sections of the state by the governor and with the advice and consent of the state senate, to serve for terms of six years each, the terms to expire at different times.

3. A law amending the motor vehicle license act to slightly increase auto registration and license fees, placing all of the fees in a state highway fund, to operate the state commission, and reimbursing the counties for money they have heretofore advanced to meet federal aid in road building.

Present at the conference at which the measures were gone over at length were: Members of the highway commission, Governor Nestos, Commission of Agriculture J. A. Kitchin, Herman Hardt and Secretary W. H. Robinson; members of the state association legislative committee, A. T. Kramel, L. L. Russell, President Moe, Secretary Kaulfuss and Assistant Secretary Wanner.

WOULD CLOSE DEER SEASON; LIMIT DUCKS

Members of State Fish and Game Commission For Changes

Many sportsmen in the state are urging a closed season on deer again for several years and changing of the opening of the duck shooting season from September 16 to October 1. Elmer Judd, chairman of the fish and game commission, said in an interview here. Mr. Judd and C. E. Manning of the commission were here on business with state officials.

The state board will join in the request for the closed season on deer to protect the fast diminishing numbers. Mr. Judd said, and will also support a demand for the change of the opening of the duck season to October 1. There are too many ducks killed in the "rapper" stage during the last two weeks of September, Mr. Judd said.

The state board is now making preliminary surveys on a plan for the conservation of waters of many streams in the state in which fish may be propagated successfully. Mr. Judd said. In many streams there is not sufficient water left after the spring run-off to keep alive large numbers of fish, Mr. Judd said. The board believes that the building of reservoirs or dams at such point, as Arrow Wood Lake and Jim Lake, which are, he said, widening of the Jim River, would make possible excellent fishing grounds. It is not proposed, he added, that the board should do this work but that legislation should be enacted to make possible the building of the dams or reservoirs by local communities.

Capture Bandit Who Tried to Raid "Pay" Wagon

Minneapolis, Nov. 25.—Arnold Chennauk, driver of the "money car" which two bandits attempted to hold up in St. Paul yesterday, today identified a man who gave him the name of W. G. Kenney as one of the highwaymen. Kenney is in a hospital suffering from a bullet wound. One of the bandits was shot by Chennauk when they attempted to steal a $5,000 pay roll of a St. Paul dry goods firm.

The condition of Kenney who was arrested here last night was said to be serious.

GENERAL STOCK TREND OF WEEK IS DOWNWARD

Public Buying Falls off
Noticeably, and Declines
Result

MANY TRADERS BEARISH

Substantial Improvement in Foreign Exchange Rates
Shown

New York, Nov. 25.—Public buying power was noticeably conspicuous for its absence in this week's stock market. Speculators for the decline being in control most of the time and hammering down prices of active shares 1 to 6 points. Bond prices also fell to lower ground.

Prices of stocks moved in seeming disregard of outside news developments, most of which were favorable. Soldiers' bonus, amendment of the transportation act, detrimental tax legislation, and tariff reduction were some of the bugaboos used by short interests in their campaigns to depress prices, but conservative interests generally placed little reliance on these so-called "reasons" for the decline.

Trading during the week was in the hands of professionals and they were bearish. Seven half-hearted attempts were made to rally the list but fell down because of the failure to attract an outside following. The volume of business was considerably reduced.

Most of the time money business was on a five per cent basis, more funds being available for lending purposes towards the end of the week. The bulk of the commercial paper business was done on a 4% percent basis.

Substantial improvement was shown in foreign exchange rates. Demand sterling touched 450 but eased off to 449 1/2 at the end of the week. representative, a weekly gain of nearly two cents at that figure. Francs got as high as 74 1/2 in the early part of the week but fell later to about 71 1/2. Canadian exchange was quoted at a discount for the first time since the latter part of September.

Opening prices in today's stock market were irregular, most of the popular issues losing ground while a few ordinarily inactive stocks made good gains. Terms of the Bethlehem-Midvale merger, which were announced after the close of the market yesterday, apparently were disappointing the speculative fraternity. Bethlehem B dropping 1 1/2 and Midvale 3 1/2. Weakness also was noted in Sears-Robuck, Continental Can, United States Realty, General Asphalt, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Baltimore and Goodrich, all off 1/2 to 1 1/2. Moderate strength developed in Piggly Wiggly, Burns Brothers A, Fisher Body, Chicago Great Western preferred, Chesapeake and Ohio, Standard Oil of New Jersey and May Department Stores, the gains ranging around a point each. Foreign exchanges opened firm.

Speculators for the decline again finding public support lacking and bullish interests apparently impatient, launched another successful attack on prices in today's brief session of the stock market. Representative shares were hammered down 1 to 3 points, a number closing at or near the low levels of the week. Conspicuous strength was shown by Pan American shares but Standard Oil of New Jersey slumped six points. Studebaker sank as low as 116 1/2, a loss of 6 points. The closing was weak. Sales approximated 480,000 shares.

NO PENALTY IS PROVIDED

Holding One's Self Out as Accountant Not Crime

The cases against Herman G. Brissman, of Bishop, Brissman and company, St. Paul accountants, which were instituted at the time Mr. Brissman and employees were making examinations of various state industries for the Nestos administration shortly after it took office a year ago, were disposed of by the supreme court here, in upholding the contentions of Mr. Brissman's attorneys.

Brissman was charged in one case with representing himself to be a certified public accountant in North Dakota when he had not been licensed by the state board of accountancy, and in another case with violating the false advertising law in holding himself out as such. Both cases were instituted by Joseph Coghlan, and member of the state board, before Justice of the Peace R. H. Thielwaite. Mr. Brissman was arrested in the first instance at 9 o'clock at night. The cases were removed to the district court on certiorari proceedings, and Judge Nussle held with Mr. Brissman his decision being affirmed.

In the first case the supreme court holds that "inasmuch as the statute relating to accountancy does not either declare that it is a crime for one to practice, or prescribe any punishment or penalty whatever upon one who practices, as an accountant without having received a certificate from the board of accountancy manifestly no punishment can be prescribed by the courts. Hence, it is obvious that the alleged criminal complaint did not charge crime at all."

DR. M. L. BURTON MAY SUCCEED SEN. NEWBERRY

Conference with Governor
Heightens Speculation
Concerning Appointment

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 25.—Speculation as to whom Governor Alex J. Groesbeck would appoint to fill the senatorial seat vacated by Truman H. Newberry, was centered today on Dr. Marion Leroy Burton, president of the University of Michigan, following a five hour conference at Ann Arbor last night between the educator and the governor.

Both the governor and Dr. Burton declined to comment after the conference. Previously the university head had asserted he was not desirous of an appointment as United States senator.

Members of the board of regents of the university declared Dr. Burton was "a free agent" but some of the regents privately expressed the hope Dr. Burton would not accept a senatorial appointment.

The university president has been one of the outstanding figures in a list of nearly fifty men and women who have been mentioned as possible appointees.

(By the Associated Press.)
Fargo, N. D., Nov. 25.—The body of a man, found hanging in a barn near Rogers, north of Valley City, is that of August Teede, his wife believes, she told Adjutant Charles Nelson of the Salvation Army after checking the description of the dead man and pictures found in his pockets. Fargo and Valley City police are rechecking the matter today and, if no errors are found, the body will be brought to Fargo, Mr. Nelson said. Mr. Teede left Fargo eleven weeks ago to work in the harvest fields about Dickinson and has not since been heard from, says Mrs. Teede.

CHAS. CHAPLIN TO WED POLA NEGRI, REPORT

Los Angeles, Nov. 25.—Charles Chaplin, motion picture comedian, and Pola Negri, Polish screen tragedienne, are engaged to marry, according to reports current in motion picture circles here, the Los Angeles Times stated in a story published today. Chaplin refused either to deny or confirm the reported engagement.

"I cannot say 'yes,'" Chaplin was quoted. "And such announcement must of necessity come from her. Neither can I say 'no,' think of the position that would place her in."

According to the Times Madame Negri cancelled an engagement to give a representative of that newspaper an interview when she received information of the subject he wished to discuss.

"The Chaplin-Negri romance," the paper continues, "has its beginning when Chaplin toured Europe last year."

There have been many reports in the last year that the comedian was to re-marry. He formerly was the husband of Mildred Harris, screen actress.

Tongue with Equal Recognition to English

(By the Associated Press.)

CONDITION UNCHANGED.

(By the Associated Press.)
Dublin, Nov. 25.—The condition of Miss Mary MacSwiney, who has been on a hunger strike in Mountjoy prison, for 21 days, was reported as unchanged today.

DO NOT COMMENT.

(By the Associated Press.)
London, Nov. 25.—The execution of Erskine Childers draws no editorial condemnation in the London morning newspapers today. Several papers make no comment and in their biographical material and introductory notes indicate neither surprise or censure. Everywhere there is recognition of Childers' ability and courage, and the obituaries and editorials alike deplore that his life had such an ending.

PROTEST EXECUTION.

London, Nov. 25.—A Cork dispatch to the Daily Mail says that the corporation meeting was adjourned last evening in consequence of the execution of Erskine Childers. Young women in white galleries, the dispatch asserts, began to speak in protest against the execution but the members of the corporation left without listening. The correspondent adds that inasmuch as the ambush of soldiers continues daily in southern Ireland, particularly in Cork county the people regard the execution as necessary.

IOWAN DECLARES RENTERS WILL MOVE TO N. D.

Iowa renters will move to North Dakota if they get the proper information, according to a letter received by H. O. Williams, of the state immigration department, from Ernest M. Larson, living near Grand Forks, Mr. Larson says:

"I have just been reading an article in the Herald about your trip into Iowa. 'I came up here from Iowa, purchased a farm along the Red River. 'You are right, the Iowa renters are going to move and will move here if they get any information worth while from here. 'I am going to Mason City and Marshalltown, my home, Christmas. Have you any late soil maps of North Dakota or literature on hand. Also, if you desire to do so I would like the names of prospective North Dakota settlers you have on hand. 'I fully expect to influence some other to come here in the near future."

POWERS SHY AT GUARANTEE OF BALKAN PEACE

Request of Turkey For Neutral Zone on Boundary
Is Held Up

OTHER AIMS CLASH

Both Greece and Bulgaria Claim Material Aid in Certain Territory

(By the Associated Press.)

Lausanne, Nov. 25.—The request of the Turkish delegates to the New east conference for a neutral zone on Turkey's western boundary has been held up, apparently because no nation wants to guarantee peace in any Balkan zone. Ismet Pasha's statement that Turkey desired the powers to guarantee the neutrality of a belt thirty kilometers wide on each side of the Turco-Bulgarian and Turco-Grecian frontier along the Maritza river, brought no definite decision by the power. It was evidently agreed that the neutrality question could be disposed of later, at the time of the expected discussion on the Dardanelles question.

Dedeagatch and Karagatch are two names which are frequently heard in the conference halls and hotel lobbies. The Bulgarians and the Greeks each profess a material interest in the former.

M. Venizelos, former of Greece, in an impassioned audience with the journalists, explained that Greece could not give up this village at the mouth of the Maritza to the Bulgarians. Premier Stambouli was equally insistent that Bulgaria could not retain her economic pils if denied this port on the Aegean.

Karagatch is in dispute between Turkey and Bulgaria. It lies just west of Adrianople and is the railway terminal of that city. The Turks contend that they cannot defend Adrianople unless they have Karagatch. On the other hand the Bulgarians say that if Turkey controls the town it will be impossible for them, to enjoy free railway communications to the Aegean even if they are given a port to the southward.

Few people here apparently are aware of the silent drama which, daily is being played in the ranks of the Turkish delegation to the Near East conference. A majority of the European delegates are convinced that Ismet Pasha, leader of the Turkish delegation, is genuinely seeking a reasonable peace, because he realizes the Turkey needs tranquility and friendly relations with Europe, and above all, capital with which to develop Turkey, for Turkey is poor in money.

With Ismet are several men, some of whom keep in obscurity, watching his every move. These silent observers represent either the bolshevik element in Turkey or are pronounced reactionaries who hate any concessions to non-Mohammedan Europe.

They have been likened in conference circles to commissaries of the French revolution who spied on the revolutionary leaders like Robespierre and Danton and who possessed such sinister power. The secret French commissaries had the guillotine as their weapon. The Turkish weapon is not known but some of the observers here affect to feel that Ismet must watch his step in dealing with capitalistic and christian Europe and America. The apprehension is felt by some of the European delegates that the power men behind the scenes will force Ismet into making demands which cannot possibly be accepted.

(By the Associated Press.)
Lausanne, Nov. 25.—Richard Washburn Child, chief American spokesman at the Near Eastern conference, amazed the other delegates at this morning's session by reiterating the insistence of the United States upon the open door policy in Turkey. He read the aide-memoire delivered on October 30 to Great Britain, France and Italy, and said that the American government and public supported this policy.

PROBE INTO SIX DEATHS AWAITS TESTS

Analysis of Vital Organs of Henderson Family Being Made

Lancaster, Ohio, Nov. 25.—Lancaster people today were looking to Columbus for the next scene in the tragedy of the Henderson family here. Whether Irving Henderson, his wife and four children died of poisoning or were asphyxiated by fumes from a gas stove, was expected to be disclosed by the results of a series of investigations under way at Columbus today.

Examination of the vital organs of Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, analysis of food found on the Henderson table for the Tuesday evening meal, and an investigation under various conditions of a stove used in the Henderson living room, were the actions upon which the future plans of local officials hinged today.

Authorities here are marking time pending the results of the research work in Columbus which may not be announced before tomorrow or the first of the week.

The local officials admit they have been run into a blank wall in their efforts to find a criminal motive. No suspicious persons have been seen near the Henderson home they say, nor have they any evidence to support previously advanced theories, that the family might have been done away with by enemies of Henderson who was a non-union at the Pennsylvania shops.

All indications, they assert point to poison, if such was the manner of death having been administered in the food. They declare evidence seems to point to Mrs. Henderson as the perpetrator of the deaths.

She is believed to have become mentally unbalanced brooding over ills, having consulted physicians in various cities.

Funeral service for the family were to be held at Nelsonville today.

Delay Decision On Packer Merger

(By the Associated Press.)
Washington, Nov. 25.—Although the various interested agencies of the federal government have about completed their individual investigations into the proposed merger of the packing concerns of Armour and Morris, there were indications today that no final policy would be decided on until there had been a full exchange of opinion among high administration officials generally.

It was considered probable in some quarters that today's cabinet meeting might advance the question toward the point of discussion.

It is known that arguments both in favor and against the merger have been laid before the departments of agriculture and the department of justice.

Whether the administration policy will be determined before Senator La Follette, Republican, of Wisconsin, has an opportunity to call up his resolution asking for full information about the merger, is a question which is causing considerable speculation at the capitol.

ASK $150,000 TO CARRY ON STOCK WORK

Increase in Appropriations to Fight Bovine Tuberculosis
Is Asked

MUCH PROGRESS MADE

Increase of the appropriation made by the state legislature for work to eradicate bovine tuberculosis in conjunction with the federal government, by the next biennial period to $75,000 for each of the two years, is to be asked of the state legislature, by the state livestock sanitary board, it was announced following a meeting held here.

The demand of farmers for service in this work is far greater than the appropriation," Dr. W. F. Crewe, executive officer of the board, said in explaining the board's action.

The annual report shows that during the year ending June 30 the agents of the Livestock Sanitary Board, in conjunction with the federal agents, tested for bovine tuberculosis over 84,000 cattle, nearly double the number of the preceding year. A total of 1,389 reactions were reported, it being estimated that the percentage of tuberculosis found in untested herds ran about 7 per cent. Many of the tests were for a second year.

The progress made in the work was viewed with satisfaction by the board, it was stated, and the experience had been favorable to North Dakota cattle raisers.

There are now on hand several hundred applications from farmers for tests, Dr. Crewe said, which cannot be granted because of lack of funds. One entire county, Foster county, was tested and made free of tuberculosis cattle, he said, and bovine tuberculosis had been driven entirely out of 27 scattered townships.

The board reports also showed that hog cholera had been less prevalent this past year than for several years. Sporadic outbreaks were reported along the South Dakota line, being due chiefly to outbreaks in several South Dakota counties.

The sheep industry has prospered during the year, it was said, and board members regretted that more farmers had not raised sheep. There is practically no contagious disease among sheep, it was reported.

Board members present included: W. L. Richardson, Dickinson; J. J. Foster, Bismarck; Ross R. Martin, Powers Lake; Dr. B. F. Seed, Minot; Dr. A. F. Schalk, Agricultural College; and Dr. W. F. Crewe, state veterinarian.

known to the world was too much for the Tiger to miss.

With no weather problem present for the day was one to bring out the best of play and the highest lights of the football spectators.

Line for line, Yale was almost generally agreed to be the stronger on the scrimmage front. Yet the difference was not overwhelming. It was in the back fields, with men available on each team for special ability to support a scheme of surprise strategy, that the issue lay.

NAVY SCORES FIRST

Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—Mulligan kicked off for the Army and then followed a punting duel. Both the Army and Navy missed kicks from placement. Before the period ended, Cullen threw a forward pass to Burckett who spurted to Army's 34 yard line before down. Here the first period ended with no scores for either side.

On the first lineup in the second period McKee threw a long forward pass to Taylor who was downed on the Army 18 yard line. McKee was then given the ball and went around left end for a touchdown. Barchett made the extra point on a placement kick. Score Navy 7; Army 0.

PERSHING SEES GAME

Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—Football warriors of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis and the United States military academy at West Point were up early today, eager for their battle. Franklin field this afternoon before 50,000 or more people, including vice-president Coolidge, Secretaries Weeks and Denby of the Army and Navy, General Pershing and officers of high rank of both services.

The cadets, heavy, fast and unbuttoned faced in the midshipment a smaller faster group for whom more individuality was claimed, a team that did not come up to its full power until the season was all over, who nevertheless came through with victories over all opponents except the University of Pennsylvania.

There isn't a great deal to choose," said head coach Fellows of the Navy. "We look for victory, so does the Army."

The famous Navy goat and the Army mule, moccasins of the two teams, were ready for their parts today. The goat rode over from Annapolis in a baggage car attached to the football special yesterday.

MINNESOTA SCORES FIRST
Minneapolis, Nov. 25.—An overcast sky, with intermittent bursts of sunlight, and a temperature at the freezing mark, greeted the Michigan and Minnesota teams who went to battle at Northrup field here today before 24,000 spectators.

Minnesota scores a touchdown, Minnesota 6; Michigan 0.

AN EMPTY PHRASE
Minneapolis, Nov. 25.—Placed in outer darkness is that phrase,

"Little brown jug" that has been mentioned so frequently in connection with the Minnesota-Michigan football game on Northrup field today.

No less an authority than Dr. L. J. Cooke, veteran basketball coach of the University of Minnesota and one of the originators of the jug idea back in 1903 has come forth with a cry for justice.

The jug, he says, is gray and holds five gallons.

GOPHERS HOPEFUL

Minneapolis, Nov. 25.—Determined to keep its season's slate from defeat and thus stand a chance for a triple tie for the big ten championship, Michigan will meet Minnesota in the last western conference football game of the year at Northrup field here this afternoon.

Michigan is favored to win but Coach "Bill" Spalding will put a strong eleven on the field this afternoon despite the absence of two regulars—full back Oster, who is recovering from tonsillitis, and Ted Cox, tackle, whose injuries that probably will prevent him from playing. Victory for the Wolverines also will mean possession for another year at least of the famous little brown jug on which is painted the score of the memorable six to six tie game played between the two teams in 1903, and which goes to the winner of the annual Michigan-Minnesota game.

CONFERENCE GAME ON

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Whether championship of the "big ten" conference a three-way affair today depended on the outcome of three games—Chicago-Wisconsin, Iowa-Northwestern, and Michigan-Minnesota—as the referee's whistles blew for the opening of the final games of the season.

Although today's games, with every conference team against conference opponents, marked the close of the season, interest apparently was drawn to a greater extent to the Wisconsin-Chicago game.

The Maroon's rivals to claim championship—Iowa and Michigan—were expected to win their games against Northwestern and Minnesota, respectively, while some doubt was seen as the outcome of the Maroon game.

With the closing of today's game, a number of regular players will doff their colors for the last time.

This year, for the first time in seven years, the Ohio-Illinois game has no bearing on the championship.

LAWYERS MAKE ARGUMENTS IN BURCH CASE

OSTEOPATHY SCHOOL HEAD IS KILLED

Kirkville, Mo., Nov. 24.—A corner's inquest will be held today to the death of Dr. Geo. A. Still, president of the American School of Osteopathy here and nationally known osteopath, who was killed instantly last night when an automatic pistol he was demonstrating to a party of friends at his home fell from his hands and accidentally discharged.

The accident occurred in the presence of his wife and about thirty guests at a party at the Still home.

SCHOOLS MOST COSTLY OF OUR INSTITUTIONS

Tax Commissioner Tells Educators Expenses More Than Doubled Since 1915

FIGURES ARE GIVEN

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 25.—North Dakota must reduce its taxes to meet the conditions while the nation is finding out how it may change conditions for agriculture so it is once more a prosperous business C. C. Converse, tax commissioner, told the school administration section of the North Dakota Teachers association here today. Moreover, the state tax commissioner made plain from figures that the tax reduction, which he hoped might be temporary, must be made among the items for educational and charitable institutions, the soldiers bonus or the highways for these items constitute 75 per cent of the state taxes.

"The conclusion is inevitable," declared Mr. Converse after showing that thirty-three different activities of the state government spent $865,649, which is a small percentage of the total taxes of the state, "that we cannot reduce taxes appreciably by curtailing the activities of the state executive and administrative departments. No substantial reduction of state taxes can be made unless reductions are made in the large items of expenditures such as those for educational institutions, penal and charitable institutions, the soldiers' bonus and highways. These constitute 75 per cent of the total. We cannot consider reducing the soldier's bonus. It should have been cared for by a bond issue. Of the total of appropriations for state institutions, one million, or nearly one-third, was for buildings and other permanent improvements, which will be used for many years and should have been provided for either by a bond issue or by a building fund accumulated gradually through a series of years.

Whether the curricula of our educational institutions are planned on a scale which is too ambitious, I do not know. It would be unjust to our taxpayers to attempt to duplicate in North Dakota the curricula of educational institutions of populous and wealthy states. Our institutions can best serve by excellence rather than by comprehensiveness.

"So much for the aspects of the problem. If we appropriate general property tax levies made by townships, cities and villages, school districts, counties, and state in 1921, and distribute them with respect to their purpose, we arrive at the following result:

Purposes.	Per Cent
General government, including soldiers' bonus and penal inst.	34.64
Roads and bridges	15.20
Education	50.16

"It is highly fitting and proper that over 65 per cent of the total general property tax be expended for such worthy purposes as education and the improvement of our highways, but we are considering the possibility of reducing the tax burden and must recognize the fact that no substantial reduction can be made in the total tax burden without making a substantial reduction in such expenditures as constitute a major portion of the whole.

FARM LEGISLATION TO FORE

President Harding's message on the ship subsidy contained the information that the administration expected shortly to present a program for remedial agricultural legislation in addition to the agricultural aid heretofore granted. This statement of the chief executive, together with the announced program of various organizations of farmers and the "farm bloc" in Congress, means that farm legislation will occupy much of the time of the special session of Congress.

Among the proposals that will command wide attention is that of Eugene Mayer, Jr., director of the War Finance Corporation, a financier of recognized ability in Wall street, who has won commendation from many farm organizations for his work. The bill drafted by Mr. Mayer, which Senator Capper will introduce, is supported heartily by livestock men. It proposes a broad rural credits system, amending both the Federal Reserve and Federal Farm Loan acts to make both systems available to the farmers in financing themselves. The bill authorizes and defines agricultural finance organizations, makes provision for examination by the comptroller of the currency, surrounds them with safeguards and makes it possible for livestock men themselves to participate in the financing of the industry. No gratuity is asked of the government, as is the case with so many of the proposed remedial measures. Mr. Mayer's plan, which is held broader than the Anderson-Lenroot rural credits bill, may not be regarded as broad enough to meet the desires of the most radical of the "farm bloc," but it is founded upon the study and experience of a man of ability who has demonstrated his sincere desire to aid the agriculture.

A bill providing for a government guarantee of the price of wheat also is proposed again, and a bill creating a half-billion dollar government corporation to find a market for products abroad have either been introduced or are ready to be placed before Congress. Most concern is evidenced by "farm bloc" senators with rural credits legislation. On the one hand there are the radical senators who demand that the credits system shall be made virtually devoid of connection with the present financial structure of the country, and on the other are senators who believe that the legislation can be harmonized with existing agencies to accomplish the results desired with proper safeguards.

Members of the "farm bloc" of Congress will claim that the intense awakening to the seriousness of the situation of agriculture is due to their agitation and demands. There is, however, a record of legislation of congresses of the past which is potent evidence that many of the leaders of the government of the past have recognized just as much as do any of the leaders of the present day the importance of the American farmer and the necessity for aid and protection for him. It has been well proved that legislation is not a cure-all, but it may be sincerely hoped that out of the deliberations of the special session of Congress may come concrete and real aid to the biggest industry of the nation.

THE N. P.'S LAND SETTLEMENT PLAN

A departure from the early method of settling lands given to railroads for the building has been adopted by the Northern Pacific Railroad. It proposes, in brief, to increase the maximum period of payment for lands sold on contract from ten years to 19 years, and to provide for payment under an amortization plan, which would make the annual payment $81 for each $1,000 of indebtedness. The company requires that a reasonable amount of improvement be made during the period. The purpose of the new method, of course, is to permit the settler to expend a part of his surplus in the years following the purchase to the building up of his farm business and his home. The plan may have proved more profitable in the early settlement than the one under which so much of the railroad grant lands were sold, but at this late day it ought to be of material benefit to the settlers who take up the remaining lands.

HURRY
Business men, unload freight cars rapidly. Every day they stand idle on sidings is a body-blow at prosperity.

The railroads announce the "largest car shortage in history." On Oct. 23, latest reported, the roads had orders for 186,349 more cars than they could furnish. That was 12 per cent more than the greatest previous shortage, May 1, 1917.

JEWELS
Money systems come and go, but jewels—especially diamonds—last forever. In Austria and Russia, where the money is not worth the powder to blow it up, the people have turned to jewels as a monetary rock of ages, a medium of exchange having semi-permanent value.

So reports Pierre Cartier, gem expert, back from Europe. He says Russia and Austria this year have exported at least $100,000,000 of jewels. The lion's share has come to America, growing richer and richer—like ancient Babylon.

RADIO
No radio broadcasting of our performances this season, announce officials of Metropolitan Opera Company.

One of them gives this reason: "We don't see where it would be beneficial to opera."
But it would be beneficial, for radio could give to grand opera the publicity and popularity that it must have if it is ever to get firmly on its feet as a paying proposition. A real showman should be able to see this. Barnum would.

The average baby at birth weighs eight pounds. One is born, weighing only one pound in London, England.

This seems a marvel. More marvelous is the doctor's predictions that the baby will live. Not many years since its death would have been a certainty. Science has to its credit many admirable achievements, but nothing more so than what it has done for saving the lives of babies.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

ELECTRIC DISTRIBUTION

The distribution of electric waves by radio has been given so much attention of late that thought has been somewhat diverted from electric distribution by wire, a subject quite as important, if less picturesque. A statement made by W. H. Brown, manager of the Red River Power company, at the Kiwanis session yesterday, puts certain facts in a striking form. High tension wires are now being carried from the local station to Hillsboro, and this line will soon be extended to Fargo. There is a gap of a few miles near Fargo, and when that is filled in the line will be continuous between Minneapolis and Grand Forks. The building of about 120 miles of line would then connect this northwestern territory with the giant stations at Niagara Falls.

It was explained that there is no expectation, for the near future, at least, of bringing power from the falls to this territory, but the facts were stated in order to illustrate the manner in which the whole country is being criss-crossed with electric wires for the distribution of power and light. The long-distance transmission of electricity for these purposes is no longer an experiment. Lines from 200 to 300 miles in length have for some time been in continuous and successful use, and there is no reason to suppose that the limit has been reached. But even with transmission remaining feasible only up to its present radius, the possibilities of the service are immense. Not only will cities of considerable size be served with current from distant water-falls, but country villages, which could not afford the installation and upkeep of a local system will be given service as continuous and in every way as satisfactory as that enjoyed by their more populous neighbors, and the farmers along the way will share in this advantage to a very considerable extent.—Grand Forks Herald.

NELSON RESIGNS

Theodore Nelson has resigned his position with the Independent Voters' Association. Mr. Nelson has been affiliated with that body for so long a time that one regards him and the party as identical. He has had his share of grief in connection with the organization and has "suffered" in doing his duty.

His withdrawal may mean the disintegration of the organization—and in that event its place must be taken by the Democratic party of North Dakota. If this comes about it is well to remember that in this state the difference of opinion regarding state affairs between the Democrats and the better class of Republicans is very slight.

Mr. Nelson built up a strong organization and one that has changed the policy of the state of North Dakota and brought about a return to sanity in conducting state business.—State Democrat, Fargo.

MENTIONED FOR JUDGE

The elevation of Judge Nussle to the supreme bench on January first will leave a vacancy on the district bench in his district and Governor Nussle will have the appointment of a judge to fill the vacancy. Among the numerous candidates for the appointment are E. B. Cox and E. T. Burke, formerly Valley City residents. Judge Burke was at one time judge of this district and was also a member of the supreme court of the state.—Valley City Times-Record.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

"Here, my dear!" said the Green Wizard, "is some magical soap I wish to send to Mrs. Bunny. She's such a good soul I couldn't refuse her request when she asked me for some magical soap to wash her son's ears. Ben Jr., won't let her touch them, it seems, so she asked me to help her out."

"Does she still live in the same place she use to?" asked Nick. "Yes, down under the ground by the old oak," answered the Green Wizard. "And by the way, it's Cobby's birthday and I've made him a nice little cake out of corn meal, the kind he's so fond of. You might knock at the Coon's front door as you go by and leave it, with my compliments."

Nick took the magical soap and Nancy took the nice little corn-cake and they started off through Whispering Forest.

But as usual Light Fingers was peeping.

He tiptoed lightly behind the Twins and very softly changed around the packages. Then he skeddaddled away for dear life.

So, when the Twins left the soap at Mrs. Bunny's house, it was really the corn cake she got, and when they presented Cobbie Coon with the corn-meal cake for his birthday, he received the pink soap intended for Ben Bunny's long ears.

Now I suppose you think there was all sorts of trouble when the mistake was discovered, but it never was. For this is the note Mrs. Ben Bunny wrote:

"Dear Mr. Green Wizard:
"Thank you for the soap. It smells so much like corn-meal that Ben lets me wash his ears with it all I want."
"Greatfully,
"MRS. BUNNY."

This was Cobby's note:
"Dear Mr. Irene Wizzard: The pink cake was fine I ate it all up please tell me was it strawberry or pepper-mint."
"COBBIE COON."

Triumphs of M. Jonquille.

THE WOMAN ON THE TERRACE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The hand some woman in the invalid chair had been talking angrily with her companion when M. JONQUELLE, greatest of French detectives, entered the beautiful Italian terrace. The woman introduced her companion,

MARTIN DILLARD, an American, and learned that the great detective had come from Paris to learn why the house in France, owned by Dillard, had burned to the ground.

She explained that the house was filled with priceless etchings which Dillard was copying. During Dillard's absence, when she was in charge, she went to the cellar where the masterpieces were stored.

The flame of her candle ignited the cobwebs in the cellar and in a moment the whole place was in flames.

CHAPTER III

"In terror, I let myself out of the flaming house," the woman continued.

"As the basement of this house was without windows, the fire was not discovered until I had gotten entirely out of the neighborhood of the Faubourg St. Germain."

"I was so overcome, so numbed, by this incredible disaster that I did not stop to consider any result. I wished to escape from Paris—to conceal myself somewhere. I thought of this villa, but I did not dare to take the train from the Gare de Lyon. I traveled in motor, winding southward from France, not directly, in order to confuse anyone who might endeavor to follow."

Again she touched her mouth with the lace handkerchief. There was a faint red stain on it. She looked at the stain, but without emotion, and presently added:

"But I did not succeed. Monsieur Dillard and Monsieur Jonquille have been able to trail me here with an equal facility, it seems, and within almost the same period of time. I can not have managed my travel with discretion."

She stopped abruptly. For a moment there was silence. The two men beside her did not move, but their aspect changed. The American seemed to relax; his tense energy to ebb. The menace in him changed to an aspect of disaster, on the contrary, there came into the posture of Monsieur Jonquille a certain tenseness. He spoke, addressing the American.

"The villa had been long closed. Insects had had their will with it. He went over to a shutter, unhooked it, swung it a little open, removed an immense cobweb, and came back to the border of the terrace.

The American, amazed and in a profound interest, moved to where he stood on the border of the terrace before the woman in the chair. The woman alone seemed beyond all concern. She neither moved nor spoke. She smiled vaguely, maintaining her posture of repose. The American could not conceal his profound interest.

"Not an accident!" he said. "What do you mean?"

Monsieur Jonquille held the web up in his fingers, struck it with his hand, and touched the web with the flame. There was no flash. The filaments of the web shriveled a little under the heat.

"I mean," said Monsieur Jonquille, "that a spider-web is not inflammable, and, therefore, the basement of this house could not have taken fire from the flame of a candle."

After that two events seemed to happen as though they were time! The woman laughed, and the infuriated American lunged toward her; but Monsieur Jonquille's foot caught his ankle with a swift outward turn, and the man plunged headlong on the terrace. He got a heavy fall, for all the vigor of the infuriated creature was in action. What followed seemed to attend with an equal swiftness. The two footmen of the Princess Kitzow were over the prostrate figure. Instantly his hands and feet were secured; a gag was in his mouth, and they had removed him.

It was all like a flawless scene in a drama, rehearsed to a perfection of detail. In thirty seconds it was ended.

"Monsieur," said the woman in the chair, "you are very clever, and your agents are perfect."

She did not move during the whole violence of the scene, and her voice was now in no whit changed. It was the same detached, unemotional voice. She removed her hands from the arms of the chair and extended them, the slender wrists together.

"Do you wish me, also, to accept the gage d'amour of the Service de la Surete?"

Monsieur Jonquille did not at once reply.

He went back to his chair. He lighted a cigarette, and he remained for some moments like a man at ease. Then he spoke.

"Tell me, madame," he said, "why did you destroy this house in the Faubourg St. Germain?"

"I thought about it, monsieur. It obsessed me."

She suddenly rose as with a single gesture, as though she had been lifted to her feet by invisible hands.

Then suddenly, monsieur, with a flash of vision on that night when I was alone in the house in the

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

WHY, ER—NO, SIR.

Faubourg St. Germain, I understood this thing—I saw that the work in which Monsieur Dillard was engaged—that the prints with which the house was literally packed—would help to destroy the very thing which these men, Paul Verlaine, Count de Lamare, and the Marquis de Nord, had given their lives to save."

She spoke with a sudden, eager vigor.
"It would help to destroy France—and therefore, I took a candle in my hand and burned it. Do you know what the valuable prints were with which this house in the Faubourg St. Germain was crowded on that night?"
"I do," replied Monsieur Jonquille. "Or I should not have taken these elaborate precautions to secure the American, Dillard."

"The house in the Faubourg St. Germain was packed with counterfeit notes of all the high-denomination paper currency of the French Republic, printed by this man, from plates etched by the German engraver, Wagnheim of Munich."

"The Girl in the Picture" another brilliant triumph of M. Jonquille, will begin in our next issue.

RUM

Rum-hounds, things are going bad from bad to worse. Scotland actually elected a prohibitionist to the British Parliament. He is Edwin Scrymgeour, who for years has been a soap-box street orator against Demon Rum.

More good news for the thirsty: Shanks, manufacturer of plumbing supplies in Edinburgh, writes us that Scotland is beginning to vote dry by local option. He predicts absolute prohibition within a decade. If Scotland does go dry and stops making the stuff, what will our bootleggers copy for their counterfeit whisky labels?

PROTEST

In New York 105 prominent physicians band together and start action in the higher courts against the section of the prohibition law that limits the amount of whisky a doctor can prescribe.

The protesters claim that patients vary and that only a physician is competent to say how much liquor is needed in any individual case. Another claim is that Congress, in limiting prescriptions, is practicing medicine, and ignorantly so.

Before we cheer this court action they should know that it is not an anti-prohibition movement, and that many of the 105 physicians are prohibitionists. They protest a curb on whisky prescriptions on the same grounds they'd protest a curb on quinine.

COAL

At the I. W. W. convention in Chicago, delegates "pan" the British miners for furnishing coal to our country during the coal strike, thus indirectly helping fight American miners.

British miners will come back with this: American miners helped smash our 1921 strike by furnishing American coal for export to England.

Like nearly everything else, "it depends on who's doing it."

JAILED

Is one American in each 680 in jail all the time? It seems so, according to the "figgers." Census report shows that 163,880 were confined in federal penitentiaries, state prisons, county jails and city police stations last July 1. The prison population July 1, 1917, was 140,198.

What is your estimate of the number who are not in jail but should be?

EITHER

Two radio fans have a disagreement at Dwight, Ill. Edward McWilliams, who has only a receiving set, claims that his rightful pleasure is interfered with when neighbor Willy Bergman operates his sending station.

Ed wants to know who owns this either, anyway, and where one person's rights end and another's begin. So he files a suit in circuit court, asking a definition of either rights.

If the radio business keeps on growing and Ed lives another 10 years, he'll probably find that either rights will be pretty thoroughly sewed up by some corporation. The good bets are never overlooked.

AT THE MOVIES

CAPITOL

A photoplay which for dramatic situations, suspense and vital, human appeal is said to be one of the outstanding productions of the season will be presented to local theatergoers when "A Man's Home," a new Selznick production with a notable cast of players, is shown at the Capitol theater next Monday.

The drama is woven around the Osborn home, a typical American household, virtually the same as any average man's home. But dint of hard work Frederick Osborn rises to the top. The sudden wealth turns his pretty wife's head and she revels in a desire for lively companions and frivolous amusements. Through this she falls into the power of Cordelia Wilson and her brother Jack, a pair of blackmailers who frame up a scheme to get some easy money from her, without exposing their true characters.

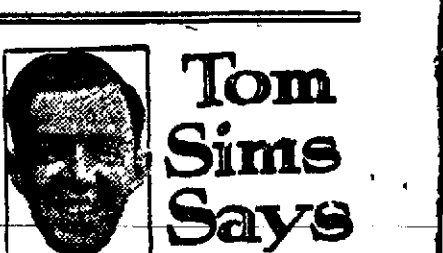

Mrs. Osborn invites them to her home, but Osborn's suspicions are aroused when detectives he has hired report unfavorably on the Wilsons. Jack Wilson has been flatterer Mrs. Osborn during their acquaintance, beseeching her to be a faithful, faithless wife. He makes advances based upon this belief and a moment later with dramatic suspense is reached when Osborn arrives on the scene and catches Wilson at his miserable game. Wilson, of course, professes that he has been led on by Mrs. Osborn and an exciting quarrel results, during which Wil-on is thrown from the house.

Nervous and Dizzy, Everything Seemed to Worry Me. How I Got Well

Larwill, Indiana.—"My back was so bad I could not do my washing. I was always tired out and had no ambition, was nervous and dizzy and everything seemed to worry me in my right side. I felt badly about four years ago and could not do my work as it should have been done. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised so much and it did so many people good that I began to take it myself. I am feeling fine now and everyone tells me that I am a new woman looking so well. I live on a farm, do all my own work, and have three little girls to take care of. I am recommending this medicine to my friends and know it will help them if they use it like I do."—Mrs. HEBERT LONG, R. R. 3, Box 7, Larwill, Indiana.

Many women keep about their work when it is a great effort. They are always tired out and have no ambition. When you are in this condition give it prompt attention.

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it is especially adapted to correct such troubles, as it did for Mrs. Long.

KINDRED OF THE DUST

Just as the gates of success opened for her—and before her stretched the golden road to success—Nan Brent received a telegram in New York that caused her to sacrifice her career without a second thought. The message was from Seattle, and it informed her that Donald McKaye was lying ill, and could not recover unless she hurried to his bedside. So Nan caught the first train for the Far West, and arrived in the nick of time. And when the springtime had brought complete recovery, there were wedding bells in the McKaye home. The romance of Nan and Donald is shown in "Kindred of the Dust," an Associated First National attraction produced by Raoul A. Walsh from the famous novel by Peter B.   - LT—Caraway, Fargo

L. W. Upshaw of Jamestown, who officiated at most of the important high school football games of the season, has placed two Bismarck high school men on his mythical all-state high school eleven, and two other Bismarck men on the second team.

Capt. Scott and Alfson draw the first eleven positions. They also won places on the mythical first team of J. A. Purcell, sporting editor of the Fargo Record.

Mr. Upshaw, in reviewing the season, praises school officials of the state, stating that "The manner in which they manage their athletics, the place they give to it in school life means much to the very life of our schools and certainly has raised to a much higher level than ever before the program in general."

Mr. Upshaw refers to the Fargo-Bismarck championship game as a great battle in spite of a heavy field.

There are many good quarterbacks on the high school eleven, he says, including O'Keefe of Cavalier, Dancereau of Lisbon, Halloran of Bismarck, Phillips of Williston and Bobby Rusch of Fargo. Phillips was handicapped by injuries.

He gives the end positions to McCracken of Grand Forks and Fisher of Fargo and adds: "Burke of Bismarck, Costigan of Lidgerwood, McDonald of Jamestown, were dangerous men."

Mr. Williams of Mandan, given the center position, he says: "Williams of Mandan, another big man, weighting around 190 pounds, is placed at center. He is a wicked man on the defense. He can pass well and is fast on his feet."

Boxing Code Is Lax In Regard to Title

By NEA Service.

New York, Nov. 25.—While the action of the New York State Boxing Commission in declaring a number of titles void has been much ridiculed, it is becoming more apparent that at least a step has been made in the right direction.

While the Marquis of Queensbury rules cover the boxing game very thoroughly, it seems that the code would have been more complete had it contained some definite word as to the defending of their titles by the champions of the various classes.

It doesn't seem fair to the logical contention of the various titles to have some veteran holder of a championship put his title in camphor balls and practically refuse to defend it in a decision bout unless given most of the loose money available.

There certainly should be a definite ruling as to how often a champion should defend his title during the course of a year. It seems that he should take a chance in a decision bout at least once every six months.

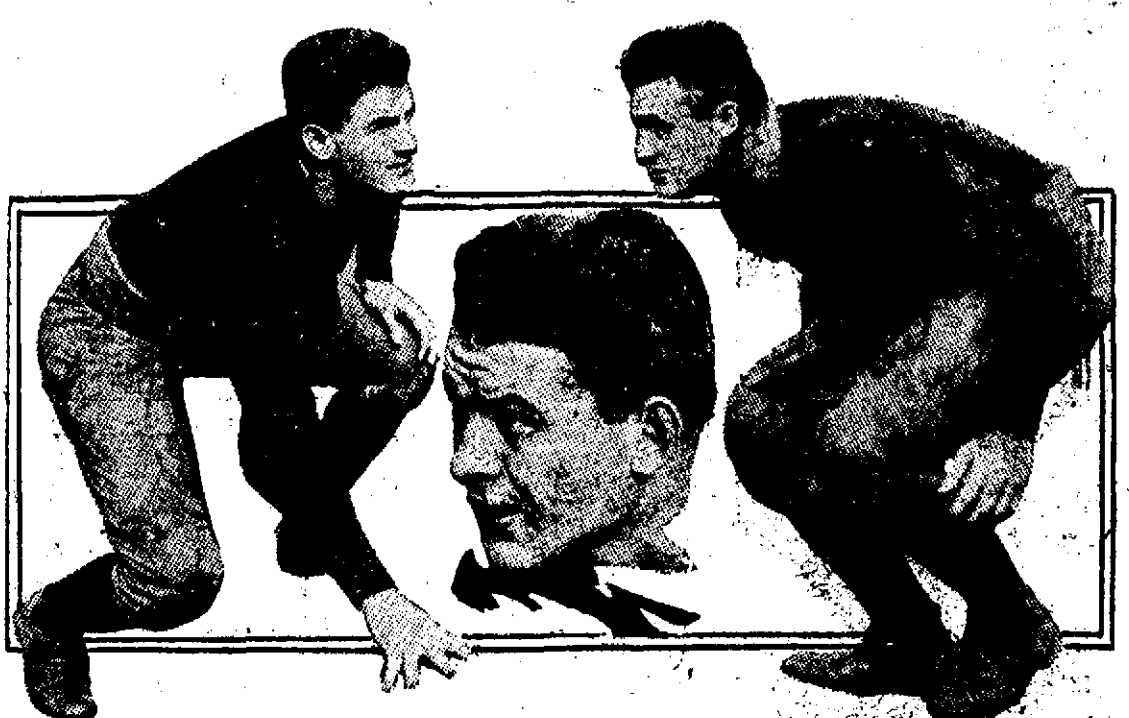

The case of Champion Johnny Kilbane of the featherweight division is the most glaring example of how this condition is abused. Kilbane absolutely refuses to defend his title unless guaranteed a sum that is out of proportion with his drawing possibilities. The promoters are entitled to a good cut and the challenger a fair sum, but the demands made by Kilbane make such a thing out of the question.

Fight fans are a bit tired of conditions in several classes, notably the middleweight and featherweight. Johnny Wilson and Johnny Kilbane are anything but popular with followers of the ring at this time, simply because of the safety-first tactics employed.

THREE GIANT NAVY FORWARDS

When the Army meets the Navy in the annual clash between these two great teams, West Point is certain to find all kinds of trouble piercing the Navy line.

Cough Bob Polwell admits that the Navy line of 1922 is one of the best he ever turned out. It is big, fast and has plenty of fight. Polwell feels certain that the Army won't get very far with straight football.

Carney is playing a whole of a game at guard. Last year a number of experts placed him on their All-American selections. He is playing much improved game this year. Bollers and Shrewell are considered two of the best tackles in the east. The Army game is the big thing with the Navy and vice versa. For several years the Navy has held its own.

This year the Army with one of its best teams in years is hoping to defeat the Annapolis aggregation. The fact that West Point held both Yale and Notre Dame to a tie is proof of the Army's strength. The one black spot on the Navy's record is the defeat by Pennsylvania.

In other outstanding encounters of the war, Brown's husky eleven, conquerors of Harvard, appears superior to Dartmouth. Notre Dame is expected to receive a stiff opposition from Carleton Tech, while Lafayette holds a decision on the seasons performances over its ancient rival, Lehigh.

Georgetown will meet a strong opponent in Boston college. Bucknell has an edge on Rutgers and Boston university is favorite over Tufts in other contests.

JENSON GETS BOUT OFFER

Thor Jenson, local middle weight wrestler and boxer, has received an offer to wrestle Adam Riech at Hebron. Jenson is rounding into shape after a season in the hospital and expects to be in tip-top shape for Riech.

Stanley Indigors will wrestle Fry at Ellendale on Dec. 1, the match being postponed from Nov. 11 because of Fry's illness.

The North Dakota Athletic club is making arrangements for a big gym and an instructor.

GRID SEASON IN EAST WILL CLOSE TODAY

Harvard-Yale and Army-Navy Games are Outstanding Features

New York, Nov. 25.—With the Harvard-Yale and Army-Navy contests affording the leading aridition spectacles, football for a majority of colleges in the east will come to a climax today.

More than 70,000 will witness the annual struggle of the Crimson and the Blue in Yale bowl at New Haven, while 55,000 more, including a host of official notables, will see the rival service eleven in action on Franklin field at Philadelphia. More than 100,000 other applications for the two games were turned down.

Harvard and Yale were prepared for the greatest test of the season. Both outwashed Princeton but met defeat at the hands of the alert Tiger eleven. Experts agreed they are closely matched in both offensive and defensive strength with Yale holding a slight edge in sheer attacking power and a greater margin in reserve strength.

To offset this, Harvard has a smoother working machine and is capable of a more resourceful game.

The Army, smarting from three straight setbacks administered by the Navy, is favored by a majority of observers to win and tie the series count, which now stands at 12 victories for the midshipmen and 11 for the cadets.

In other outstanding encounters of the war, Brown's husky eleven, conquerors of Harvard, appears superior to Dartmouth. Notre Dame is expected to receive a stiff opposition from Carleton Tech, while Lafayette holds a decision on the seasons performances over its ancient rival, Lehigh.

Georgetown will meet a strong opponent in Boston college. Bucknell has an edge on Rutgers and Boston university is favorite over Tufts in other contests.

TAX RECEIPTS FAVORABLE

Remittances Much Greater Than Year Ago, Reports Show

The state general fund probably will be in excellent condition as soon as the result of receipt of increase amounts of taxes from the county treasurers, according to reports in the office of the state auditor. Receipts for September from the county treasurers increased over September, 1921, and the October collection returns thus far made show a marked increase over the previous year.

McIntosh county, long known as one of the best tax-paying counties in the state, has remitted more than twice as much money in the last month as during the same period a year ago. A comparison in the October returns of some of the counties already reported with the returns of last year follow:

County	1922	1921
Adams	$ 5,378.81	$ 2,518.82
Billings	2,521.65	1,290.36
Cass	102,318.07	52,368.05
Eddy	13,246.70	7,425.70
McIntosh	13,470.57	28,733.13
Richland	61,023.55	28,733.13
Sisseton	15,783.67	7,836.11
Golden Valley	5,174.34	3,214.28
Trail	39,387.02	21,214.28

While the state levy for the present year was about double that of the previous year, and this accounts in large measure for the increase, yet the reports, in the opinion of officials, show a greater percentage of tax payments thus far this fall than last fall. Some are inclined to credit the increase to the fact that farm loans are being made in large numbers and the usual requirement

A Modest Hero

Robert J. Kuebler, 15, has performed no feat of conspicuous gallantry. His courage was in obscure ways. This is his first without outside aid, this 15-year-old boy spent 42 days painting the ten-room house of his parents in Kennerly, N. J. He thereby saved his parents $190.

That taxes be paid before a loan is made to the general greater ease with which money is obtainable for loaning purposes.

RECOVERS FROM RHEUMATISM

"Had rheumatism five months that would go from my left knee to my back. Tried many remedies without relief. Finally used Foley Kidney Pills and in fifteen days was entirely cured," writes W. J. Oliver, Vidalia, Georgia. Backache, rheumatic new disorder. Foley Kidney Pills pains, dull headache, dizziness and quickly relieve kidney and bladder, blurred vision are symptoms of kidney trouble.

Are You The Man Who "Never Reads Advertisements?"

Some men, who are neither blind nor illiterate, claim sincerely that they "never read advertisements." Yet, if you could investigate, in each case you would find that the man who "never reads advertisements" used an advertised tooth paste or shaving cream or soap. If he owns an automobile it will be an advertised car. If you ask his opinion of any automobile he will reply in words that might have been lifted bodily from an advertisement of that automobile.

Advertising has formed his opinions to a great degree. He may have received his information through others who obtained their knowledge from advertising. But it is a fact that no man can escape the effect of advertising even if he does say he "never reads advertisements."

Not one of us ever reasoned out entirely from his own mind that the earth is round. If we had not read it or heard it we would never have known it.

In these days of good, truthful, helpful advertising to say, "I never read advertisements" is merely your way of saying, "I don't read all advertisements."

News of the Markets

WHEAT TAKES DOWNTURN IN CHICAGO MART

Moderate Selling Affects Early Dealing on Board

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Nov. 25.—Moderate selling by commission houses induced by a lower range in values at Liverpool tended to give the wheat market here a downward slant today during the early dealings. Interest of shorts here was somewhat cut down because of yesterday's bulge in prices, and the market showed a rather easy undertone. The opening which ranged from 4c to 4c lower, with May $1.16 1/2 to $1.17 and July $1.07 1/2, was followed by a slight recovery and then something of a general setback.

Later wheat values broke to a new low for the week, liquidation setting in when bullish news failed to develop. The close was weak, values showing a net loss of 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents, with May $1.15 1/2 to $1.16 1/2 and July $1.06 1/2 to $1.07.

Corn and oats followed the course of wheat. After opening unchanged to 1/4c off, with May 69 1/2 to 70 1/2c, the corn market continued to sag. Oats started unchanged to 1/4c lower, May 43 1/2c and continued to decline. Higher quotations for hogs gave a lift to provisions.

WHEAT, BARLEY ARE STRONG IN WEEK'S TRADE

Show Independent Strength On Minneapolis Market This Week

(By the Associated Press)
Minneapolis, Nov. 25.—The Minneapolis Wheat and Barley markets have shown independent strength during the past week while other markets have had slight declines, according to the weekly review of the United States department of agriculture. New high points were touched but gains were not held.

Discussion of European food needs with different constructions of crop figures has caused some uncertainty in the wheat market. Reports to the department of agriculture make total world's wheat production 3,012,000, compared with 3,049,000, last year.

Primary receipts have been liberal but terminal markets have shown very slight increase. There has been little change in the export situation at Minneapolis. Chicago and Liverpool have had some relief with the result that flour which has been in transit reaching destinations and mills have had reduction in orders. Mills have been operating at 80 percent capacity and flour prices have advanced 10 to 15c in line with wheat. Feed prices have been unchanged with the trade slackening.

Cash wheat markets were easier yesterday. No. 1 dark northern wheat selling at 19 cents over the December future. The increase in price of December over May and today's reduced flour business was responsible for slower cash wheat demand. Durum wheat was but little changed. Receipts have been light and millers competing for best qualities. Other grades have been a little easier. No. 2 sold yesterday at 80 1/2c. There has been a good shipping and feeding demand for corn and oats receipts of which have been small. No. 1 yellow corn spot sold here at 72 1/2c; No. 3 white oats 38 1/2c to 42 1/2c. Flax futures have declined for the week November being declining 4 1/2c and December 2 1/2c. Basis of spot seed was changed to December No. 1 seed trading mostly 3 to 5c over the December future which closed $2.40 1/2.

Corn offerings held light and colder weather increased the feeding demand. Oats was steady with cereal company buyers showing a tendency to edge bids on fancy stuff a little higher. Offerings of very choice oats are limited. Rye was less active and prices were weaker. Barley prices were firm and unchanged. Flax receipts were moderate and crushing demand was good.

CASH WHEAT SLOPPY
(By the Associated Press)
Minneapolis, Nov. 25.—Cash wheat was pretty sloppy after the opening today. There was some sparring during the first few minutes with buyers bidding about a cent less. After some trading in the best wheat at a cent decline, bids were reduced further for the medium and lower grades, enough so that elevator buyers were able to pick up some of the receipts. In the face of this slackness demand offerings showed a fair increase. Durum demand was slower and prices declined compared with December. Winter offerings were light, but bids were off in sympathy with the decline in spring grades. Corn followed wheat, the market lacking support, and closed weak, at a net loss of 1 1/2 to 1 3/4c, with May 68 1/2c to 69c.

Increasing Ravages of Cancer
Impressed Upon Audience
At Auditorium

DEATH RATE INCREASES

Eighty-four thousand people died of cancer in the United States last year, and the death rate is increasing each year, Dr. W. H. Bodenstab, speaker at the "Cancer Week" meeting at the Auditorium last night, told his audience.

Dr. J. O. Aronson, another speaker, stating that he did not wish to frighten anyone but that the facts must be faced, predicted that on out of every ten persons in the audience over 45 years of age, would die of cancer.

Dr. M. W. Roan told the audience of some of the methods of treating cancer—and the efforts of the scientific world to combat the disease.

The meeting was arranged by local physicians in cooperation with the American Society for the Control of Cancer. In addition to the talks made by physicians there was shown a film entitled "Reward of Courage."

Dr. Bodenstab, opening the meeting, said that the meeting was an effort on the part of American physicians and surgeons to help the people in preventing an increase of the scourge. He explained to the audience what cancer is, Dr. Aronson told the audience of some of the danger signals of cancer and how they could be recognized by the individual, while Dr. Roan told of some methods of the cure of cancer. Dr. Roan emphasized that if recognized in time, while it still is a local affection, cancer may be cured.

Paris Reports Experiment in

(By the Associated Press)
Paris, Nov. 25.—A system of pilotless airplane control lines passed a two days test satisfactory, according to experts who supervised the trials with a 300 horsepower passenger-carrying government biplane that flew over Etampes aviation field on Wednesday and Thursday for several hours. The plane, going aloft with one on board, responded to control by hertzian waves from the ground, performed all the customary evolutions, and then landed safely. During the tests the machine was frequently lost from sight in haze and clouds but it was always under control.

FIRST WEEK IN REVIVAL MOST

Increasing Interest Is Noted
Each Day at McCabe
Methodist Church

BY J. K. DORAN
Last night ended the first week of the evangelistic meetings at the McCabe Methodist church. Every day witnessed an increase in interest and a larger congregation each succeeding evening.

The singing was of a very high order, the singer being one of the greatest singers in church work and was formerly in leading roles in grand opera. The choir is composed of educated singers, with good voices and greatly improved by the training received under the leadership of Rev. Ranshaw, the evangelist singer.

Yesterday evening the singing by the male quartet was greatly enjoyed and tomorrow night they will do their best.

The meetings will continue for two weeks yet and the prospects are that great good will result from the effort. While the meetings were planned by the pastor and official board of the McCabe church it was designed and hoped that others would join in and help and to the gratification of all the meetings are taking a much wider scope than at first anticipated, as many ministers and church people from churches in surrounding towns, some coming as far as forty or fifty miles away and much help from local ministers and workers from other denominations. There is a spirit of union and cooperation, and that is very laudable and helpful, and is demonstrating the power of christian brotherhood.

issuance of the license stated that she was a widow.

Professor John P. Tiernan, divorced Thursday in South Bend, Ind., and Mrs. Blanche Brimmer of Hansell, Iowa, were married in Crown Point, Ind., today. The former professor of law at Notre Dame University, who gave his age as 32, said he met his 24 year old bride during the recent sensational trial in South Bend in which the first Mrs. Tiernan made paternity charges against a South Bend haberdasher, Harry Poulin. Professor Tiernan said after a honeymoon and holidays period in Chicago he intended to begin law practice in New York City.

BRIDE 23 YEARS OLD
(By the Associated Press)
Hansell, Iowa, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Brimmer is 23 years old and has been a widow for a year, her father said today.

The Rev. Hawn said that his daughter, has been corresponding with Professor Tiernan for some time. He said he and the girl's mother have never seen Professor Tiernan. They do not know where their daughter became engaged to him.

Mrs. Brimmer left her home on Thursday for Chicago. Her parents knew she planned to marry Professor Tiernan. She informed him, when she left home that she and Professor Tiernan would make their future home in Chicago.

(By the Associated Press.)
South Bend, Ind., Nov. 25.—When informed that her former husband had been married to Mrs. Blanche Brimmer at Crown Point, Ind., this morning, Mrs. John P. Tiernan stated that she did not know the woman, but that she had frequently heard Professor Tiernan speak of a "Blanche" whom he some day expected to marry. As these statements were generally made in the form of a jest, she stated she paid no attention to them. So far as she knows the new bride of Professor Tiernan has never been in South Bend.

USED CARS

People have gotten over the idea that "used cars" and "abused cars" are synonymous. Every car seen on the street is a Used Car. They now realize that it is purely a matter of judgment on their part; that is, judgment in choosing a dependable dealer to buy from.

Remember: A used car is only as good as the firm which you deal with.

$1950

What greater proof of Willys-Knight performance could you ask than this letter from Mr. R. M. Bennett, in which he says:

"In 1914 my father, Mr. E. T. Bennett, purchased the first Willys-Knight car that came to Memphis, Tennessee. This car is now eight years old and is not only still running but is more powerful and more quiet than on date of purchase. The car has covered more than one hundred thousand miles and has not required one cent in repairs to the motor. The only mechanical work that has been done is the relining of the brake bands. This car is now being used and driven by my brother and has not seen a garage or overhead cover for the past four years."

Incidentally Mr. Bennett just bought a new Willys-Knight Sedan "sight unseen," and took delivery from the freight car without even a demonstration.
